MY DAYS AND NIGHTS IN THE PEST HOUSE

Seen as how you have a fine interesting piece in their paper about the man what was in the hospital a getting better with the help of some nice looking nurse girls, it sort of made me want to write about a experience I had over a year in the war in a German Pest House.

I guess the boys called it by the right name, cause we was most pestered to death by those pesky Germans and the rest of the time the poets what crawled kept us busy. They say that Napoleon got so in the habit of scratching his chest that when he had his picture took it was with a hand tucked in his breast between the buttons of his vest. I guess that they had cooties in his time. Speaking of pests, I find that as soon as I get home to the U. S. they begin to get us to death with charity drives an if it do seem as if they was no end of pests for me since this was started, and it ain't stopped yet.

We went over there to fight for freedom for our folks over here an look what they did when we was gone an couldn't have a say in things. They sprung Prohibition and let the women vote and now things is in a mess. Next thing they try will be to keep us men from smoking, an the next thing they will be smoking will be that we will have to carry our knittin bags out on the street when we visit. I always thought that was enuff old women in Congress down to Wash., D. C., without lettin the women get a seat there. The men won't have a chance to get a word in edgewise if they get many more women congressmen to rule the country.

The one women that they have down there was never married and she says that she is to be pitied, but I figger that if she ever hooked a man for a husband an got him signed up on a life contract that the poor bash would be darn glad to let her run for congress so long as she didn't stay at home. We men has got to hang together and as Artemus Ward says to P. T. Barnum once, "You scratch my back I will scratch yours." I'd rather have my back scratched than to have my face scratched and O, I particular don't like to have some one put their cold feet on my back in the cold winter night up in this climate.

Well, I got off my subject of the pest house and I better return to it. I find fond of pests as I know some men have pests around them all the time ever since they was hatched in the matrimonial knot, and then there is some that is as free as if they want tied to the apron strings. They hang a man with a special knot and some men get tangled with other kind of knots as above mentioned. It's a knotty problem at best. I should think that a man when he finds things gettin too norty at home could sort of find a reason to go the hospital an have a operation of have a lot of fun recoverin with the help of the winsome nurses and then he could entertain the folks at home with his doings and be careful not to mention all the doings for fear they might think that he was gettin too healthy and bring him home.

These pieces in their paper about our friend in the hospital and have em bound and saved for future generations to read. In twenty-five years or so you could run a column headed "Twenty-five Years Ago this Week" and then the fun would be to see how the old boys used to have a good time when they get away from home, even in a hospital.

They is saving phonograph records of the famous singers' voices and film them away in this would be just as important for the Twin Towns future happiness. Yours truly, Phineas Smith.

PARROT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

The following story of a South American parrot owned by Inez Flint, an Oxford County woman, appeared in the Lynn Item, as follows:

"The mystery surrounding the parrot that attracted the attention of persons in Central Spaulding county, was cleared up when Polly in person on the arm of her owner, called at the Item office.

"Polly is owned by Miss Inez Flint of 28 Newhall street, Lynn, and has been in her possession for the past 11 years. She is of the Macaw family, the largest of the parrot species, and came from the banks of the Orinoco river, South America.

"She was just a wild parrot and has been tamed wholly by her owner until now she is almost human in her intelligence. She sits at table and eats all sorts of food from a plate and drinks from a glass. She goes shopping and pays her bill by taking the coins in her bill and giving them to the clerk.

"Polly adores auto riding as it is the nearest approach to riding with which she is familiar. She is not a great chatter, but speaks many phrases with considerable expression, among them the pathetic 'Polly's lonesome.' Her favorite game is lying on her back like a kitten and playing with a spool with her beak.

"Her colors are brilliant reds, blues and yellows and her tail measures more than a yard in length, with the wings have a breadth of 1 1/2 yards. Her weight is an unknown quantity, for being a member of that sex that shines at weight and age, Polly refuses to be weighed.

"Polly lays large eggs 3-4 inches in circumference and similar in appearance to hen's eggs. She has posed for the movies and is an ideal actress for she looks the camera straight in the eye."

FINE AS GIBRALTA

The country is beginning to emerge from one of the severest cases of business depression it has experienced in half time, with many of them closed, construction work at a standstill; striking up what little industry was left; retailers selling half of their normal quantity; five million people out of employment.

Yet with all of these handicaps there has been no whisper of a financial panic, such as have caused widespread disaster in former years.

Does this indicate that the day of panics for this country is over? It would seem so.

No matter how much we may differ in our political beliefs, or what party may be in power, the fact remains that the American people have an abiding faith in the stability of their Government. They know that it is as sound as the Rock of Gibraltar.

While we may have our periodical depressions in business—as we will always have at intervals—the stability of the government precludes any possibility of destructive panics.

Therefore, we have not panics. This is the U. S. A.

WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

Tennessee Farmer Wants to Go From House to House and Tell Everybody About Tanlac

"If I were not so busy with my farm-work I would go from house to house and tell the people about Tanlac," said A. J. Livingston, a well-known farmer, living near Ashland City, Tenn.

"I had stomach and kidney trouble and suffered torment with my back and side. The doctors could do nothing for me so I wrote to a friend of mine in Nashville about Tanlac and he advised me to try it, saying he had heard so many favorable reports about it and sent me a bottle.

"After taking the first bottle I felt so much better that I ordered another bottle myself and the result is I am a well man. I told a friend of mine about it and ordered a bottle for him, and he had good results. I can eat anything I want and it don't hurt me and can sleep like a log. To tell you the truth, I just simply feel like a new man and have more strength and energy than I have had in years. It is simply the grandest medicine in the world. I would like to see all of my friends and get those who are suffering to try it and I hope you will reach them through this testimonial, which I have gladly given."

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which accomplished such remarkable results in this man's case, is a wonderful tonic, appetizer, and invigorant. It builds up the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation of the food and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well as nature intended.

Tanlac is sold by A. L. Clark Drug Co., Norway; Stowell Bros., Locke's Mills; R. E. Pinkham, East Waterford; W. H. Brown, East Stanham; Hicchi, Stearns & Kimball, Lovell, H. L. Hutchins Co., North Fryburg; L. R. Rounds & Co., Waterford, and P. G. Barrett, Welchville, Me.

To the Honorable Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, next to be held at Paris, within and for said County, on the second Tuesday of October, A. D. 1921:

Bertha B. Littlefield, of Norway, in said County, wife of Norval H. Littlefield at North New Portland, in the County of Somerset, and said State of Maine, on the eighth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twelve, by Albert Parsons, Esq., a Justice of the Peace, duly authorized to solemnize marriages; that they lived together as husband and wife at said North New Portland, at Freeport, at Strong and at Kingsfield, in said State of Maine, from the time of their said marriage until the thirteenth day of July, A. Wherefore your Honorable Court grant a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between herself and the said Littlefield may be decreed. ## THE PRINCIPLES OF SOIL MANAGEMENT

Successful farming depends to a large degree upon the proper soil management. To put the farm in a condition to produce profitable yields demands on the part of the operator a clear understanding of the properties of the soil. The soil is a medium for plant growth, and as such furnishes water and plant food for the growing crop. The moisture holding capacity is all-important since water is the means by which the plant is fed. The elements of plant food become dissolved in the soil water which in turn is taken up by the plant. Likewise, soil air is essential to the development of the plant as the roots must have oxygen. If the soil becomes compact or saturated with water, the air is forced out, shutting off the supply so necessary to the life of the plant. This is easily observed in the growing of corn. If the soil is a stiff clay, easily packed by heavy rains, the surface will become, upon drying, so compact that air is not admitted freely to the roots of the plant and serious results will follow if the condition is not relieved by thorough cultivation.

If, on the other hand, the corn is planted on a similar soil well supplied with organic matter in the form of manure or sod the ground does not pack or run together so easily and there is less danger of checking the growth of the plants. Every farmer knows the value of organic matter in putting his soil in a state of good tilth. By tilth is meant the ease of working and the readiness with which the soil is reduced to a fine mellow condition. Organic matter as supplied by stubble, sods, and manure, tends to make clay soils more friable, more retentive of moisture and more fertile. To secure this effect the organic matter must be more or less decomposed in the soil.

Lime is another agent that aids in correcting the physical condition of the soil. Clay soils become more friable, more easily worked, and are in a better condition to admit air and moisture if they have been well limed. The effect of lime and organic matter on a sandy soil is the reverse, as it tends to hold together the sand particles making the soil more compact, which is desirable in this class of soils. Both organic matter and lime are necessary to bring about the best physical condition of the soil. From a chemical standpoint the decomposing organic matter forms weak acids which act upon the mineral constituents of the soil releasing the elements of plant food. When these acids become abundant the soil becomes "sour" and lime is needed to counteract the acidity. Clover will not thrive on an acid soil, hence, it is necessary that lime be applied in order to promote the growth of this most valuable plant for soil improvement. Lime assists also in reducing the organic matter to a condition that is of service to the growing plant.

It isn't the best policy to take all you can get. You may get more than you want to take. Never mind what your neighbor says. It's what you do that counts.

NOTES FROM JOSEPH ANDREWS

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 12, '21.
Dear Advertiser—One more letter and I will quit, for a while at least, or until my three months' vacation in Maine and New Jersey is over. About two weeks ago I wrote to my old Lovell friend, John F. Stearns, at Lawrenceville, N. J., telling him of my plan to spend three weeks in August in Lovell, Maine, and expressing a wish that I might have the pleasure of meeting him on that occasion. A few days later I received the following sad letter from his daughter, which I will enclose as a part of this letter.

Phillips House, Lawrenceville, N. J., July 8, '21. Dear Mr. Andrews—Your letter to father at hand and we wish you might have had the reunion this summer in Lovell as you suggest, but alas, dear father is very ill here now, and at his advanced age we have no hope of his recovery. He has been wonderful in his youthful vigor all along until about two months ago when the bladder trouble which he had for about one or two years grew worse and he has continued to lose strength gradually. He has been in bed only since the 5th, his 93d birthday, when he sat up and was dressed. Each day now we think may be the last with us. He has been a wonderful father, and we have so much enjoyed his living here with us since mother died at the age of 76, thirteen years ago. Summers he has spent with brother, and at Lovell. My brother stopped here the first of July, on his way out to California to attend the Congressional Conference. Dear father is looking forward with joy to the Heavenly Home. He often says, "Jesus, lover of my soul, let me to Thy bosom fly, where my husband and I shall take the journey up to Saco, Maine when necessary."

I read your letter to him, and he was glad to hear from you and wished you might have been with him in Lovell, last year. Fortunately school has closed and I and my husband are devoting all our time to making dear father as comfortable as possible. He has a big cool room with four windows, and has not felt the heat at all. Sincerely, Lucie Stearns Prentiss.

John Frye Stearns was one of Nature's noblemen, and one of Lovell Center's Grand Old Men. He was born on the Deacon Stearns Hill in Lovell on July 5, 1828, the 7th child of a family of 12 children. And he grew to manhood amongst Old Oxford County Hills which he loved so well. He was educated in the over crowded old four squared roof school house which stood where the new one now stands and where I attended school 65 or 70 years ago. He has led a good and useful life, and the world was made much better by his journey through it.

Dr. Barker of Johnstown, Pa., from whom I quoted in my last letter, with his bright and talented wife called on us last week. They were on their way by auto to visit her two brothers who live at Bradock, about 9 miles east of here, and from them I learned some interesting news items. One was that Judge Barker and his brother, Conie of Ebenesburgh, Pa., had just started on an excursion for Alaska, to be gone about two months. The latter had been troubled a great deal with asthma and I think it on this account they make the trip. I had not heard until now of the death of Fred Barker, only son of Judge Barker, in the line of duty in France. He was in the Red Cross division, close up in front carrying supplies to our wounded soldiers. A comrade was killed in the first line trenches. He had on his person a large amount of money with which to pay the soldiers. Young Barker volunteered to go out and try to bring in the body, and was blown to pieces by a German shell. He was buried where he fell, and by the request of his father will not be brought back home. Fred was keeping an interesting diary and had a large collection of war relics that he was saving up, but after his death his friends could find not one single relic, not even his diary could be found.

They have had good rains out in my section of South Dakota, and as usual have good crop prospects. But farm crop prices are way down, oats to 20 cents and corn to 35 cents a bushel. Last week it was hot and dry up to 93 for several days. This week it is cool and showery, and good growing weather.

THRIFT LESSON

William Mather Lewis, director of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department in Washington, has set an example which is worthy of the attention of parents who wish to accumulate funds for the future benefit of their children. The other day Mr. Lewis put in the bank where he has his safe deposit box the War Savings Certificate which his 13 year old daughter with his help had accumulated during the past year. This is the third year that Mr. Lewis has made a special trip to the bank for this purpose, which means that there is in his daughter's name a reserve fund, part of which will be available for her in 1923 when the first issue of Savings Stamps matures, part in 1924 and part in 1925. By the end of this year there will be a reserve fund of four years' savings, and from Jan. 1, 1923, as long as Treasury Savings Securities are on the market, which Mr. Lewis says he trusts will be for many years, there will always be a reserve fund stretching over four years, and a cash payment available annually.

In addition to this fund established by Mr. Lewis for his daughter, F. C. Ayres, Government director, Savings Division, First Federal Reserve District, points out that if anyone will put away $200 a year (maturity value) he will in five years begin to make available for his son or daughter an annual endowment fund. Should the parent prefer, and keep on the same basis for six years, for instance, the matured Treasury Savings Securities would then total $1200. This process may be continued indefinitely, either to help educate a child, to furnish them with money for traveling, or to start them in business. Such a fund also might be considered as a means of safeguarding a boy or girl financially in case of the parents' death.

From reports which have been received here and there throughout the District, it is evident that the interest in Government Savings Securities is on the increase.

There are great possibilities of increased savings among people who wish to create special funds for any purpose, such as vacation funds, Christmas funds, insurance premium funds or tax funds. It is always easier to put away $10 or $20 a month for eight months than to have to pay $80 to $160 in a lump sum out of the income of one or two months. The $5 Savings Stamps offer exceptional advantages for the accumulation of such funds.

A diplomat never calls another man a liar. He only proves it.

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF SAFETY

Never run in front of a moving automobile.

When crossing the street be sure that the way is clear. Look first to the left and then to the right.

Do not play games in a street where autos are running.

When you chase a playmate on a ball into the street keep the autos in mind.

If a country road has no sidewalks, walk on the left side after sundown, so that no autos will come upon you from behind.

You risk your life when you steal a ride on a motor truck, or when you drop from one.

Do not run into the street from behind standing autos, street cars or wagons, because your view is cut off when you do so.

Do not hold up autos after school and ask for a ride.

Look upon the traffic officer as your friend and watch his signals until you understand what they mean.

Cut out the auto accidents reported in the newspapers each day, and explain them to younger children.

Followed a Neighbor's Advice and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vernon, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my sides. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. ### SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

We are going to give the idle young men something for nothing—a little of free of charge. But it is good advice, is given in all sincerity, and is for their present as well as for their prospective good.

You tell us you want work, but that there is nothing for you to do. Let us see.

All over this part of the state there are many of the best farms of the country. There are big farms, medium farms, and even one-man acreages.

These farms are not producing to their maximum, because the owners cannot secure the necessary farm labor. If they could secure the necessary help the acreage would be materially increased each year, and the community would become richer, and better, and more attractive to all people.

There is no more dignified calling than that of tilling the soil. It is the source from which all life springs.

Go onto the farm. Be industrious. Write each day to learn something new. Make up your mind that you will begin at the bottom and end at the top. In ten years, while still young, you will be carrying success around in your pocket.

You will have a comfortable bank account. You may even have a farm of your own. And you will be admired and respected by the whole community.

But, "No farm life for me!" you say? Then this is our prophecy: In ten years, instead of being successful and admired by your neighbors, you will be still perishingly looking for that job. You will be a stranger to the business entrance of a bank. You will be scheming to make both ends meet, possibly at your wife's end to support a family on an income not sufficient for one.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Community Chautauqua
The Princess Naacomee Company consisting of three people, entertained Thursday afternoon and gave the prelude to the lecture in the evening. Naacomee, an Indian princess, appeared with violin melodies, transposing the various moods of the Redskin to music. She recited numerous stories based on Indian lore and illustrated on the violin. Ethel Hixcox proved a talented pianist, a singer with a sweet voice and an entertaining reader. The third number was an Indian versed in tribal dances who gave several of the prominent steps familiar to us by name. He was dressed in native costume and entered heartily into his work enthused by generous applause.

After the prelude in the evening, Chief Tahan delivered his remarkable lecture, "Up From Savagery." His story of progress from a wild red skin of the West to a Christian minister in the Presbyterian Church, is fascinating and an incentive to all who feel shackled to hereditary taints or to an unfavorable environment. His father was California Joe and his mother a squaw. They lived in a cabin on the frontier and he clearly remembers the raid when the cabin was burned and his parents massacred. This child was adopted by the Chief and trained with the Indian children of the tribe in that great University of Nature. As a warrior he proved a troublesome customer for Uncle Sam and was in the party which surrounded and annihilated General Custer and his party. His tribe was later attacked and subdued by the United States troops. He escaped with others into the hills, to become an outlaw until put in irons and confined several months in a western fort. After serving as a scout he was thrown upon eastern civilization, without a knowledge of the language or our customs. Becoming a tramp, he knocked about until picked out of the gutter by the Salvation Army. This was the beginning of his advancement. His great yearning to uplift his race has made him a missionary to his people. When not on the lecture platform, he is following the same trails as in youth, not with scalping knife, but carrying the gospel of hope and good cheer. Dr. Joseph K. Griffin, for that is his "white man" name, was made a legal citizen of the United States within six years, and cast his first ballot for Woodrow Wilson. That the American Indian has the same rights with the foreigner to become citizens, is his strong argument expressed in a convincing manner.

Securing Pledges
The work of securing something like 275 pledges to make 600 season tickets before the contract would be signed and delivered, was an exciting drive Thursday evening.

Pres. E. N. Swett prepared the way by answering a few critics dissatisfied with the quality of the talent and wishing to change for another chautauqua corporation. Facts showed the change would mean to guarantee at least 700 tickets at a considerable advance in price with no better artists, as the entertainers work from one to another. No dissenter accepted the invitation to offer objections against the present service and a strong affirmative vote of the "house" with no negative hands, was a unanimous approval of the policy, and service rendered by the Community Chautauqua Corporation.

Rev. Chester Gore Miller started after the pledges. With Mrs. Agnes L. Morton at the piano, the audience joined hands and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Superintendent Whalen read a petition signed by sixty-five Junior citizens praying the return of Chautauqua and asking for a municipal playground. They also pledged their support for 1922. A committee of citizens canvassed the audience and pledges rolled in. Mr. Whalen tabulated the returns on a blackboard, and enthusiasm increased as the mercury neared the 600 mark. Rev. Mr. Miller conducted the drive in a masterly way and secured the necessary number, securing the Chautauqua here for its seventh year. America was sung when the last pledge came across.

Chief Tahan made a hit at the opening of his lecture by subscribing of a course ticket, same to be given the homeliest and stigmatized man in South Paris or Norway.

Eugene N. Swett, chairman of the ticket committee, reports as follows:

556 adult season tickets at $2.50	$1,390.00
112 Junior tickets at $1.50	$168.00
Total receipts	$1,558.00
Account with Community Chautauqua	$1,135.00
Paid O. L. Whalen, guarantee	$1,135.00
Total	$2,273.00
One-half of 56 tickets above 500	70.00
For Junior tickets	140.00
Total amount paid	$1,703.00
Our part of single admissions	$22.00
Total	$1,725.00
Our profit from receipts	$210.00

The Juniors had a good time during Chautauqua. Friday was the opening day and a large parade of eighty boys, and girls marched from Main street over to the fair grounds. Jessie Noyes, Stephen Russell, Gary Locke and Ellen Tubbs were "Treasure Ship" winners. Saturday morning their meeting was called to order at nine o'clock and officers were chosen as follows:

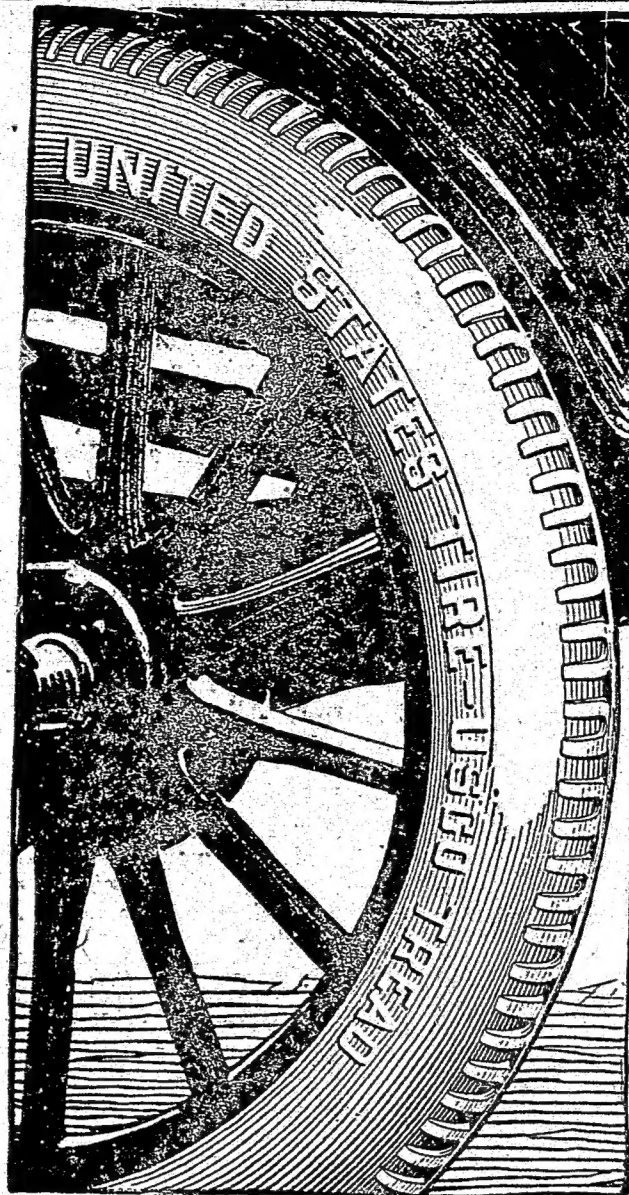

Mayor—Herman Juddins.
Clerk—Ellie Anderson.
Captain of the Guard—Abraham Saleeby.

Every morning games were played and a good time was enjoyed by all.

About forty-five children hiked to Ordway Grove Tuesday morning at half past six, where breakfast was cooked and eaten.

Every minute of the time during the week was taken up with games, stories, and help. Work under the direction of Josephine West of Philadelphia, and Josephine Chase of Norway, the local play leader. The pageant given by the Juniors Thursday afternoon was a success. All parts were taken by the Juniors, and costumes were original and appropriate. The Junior Chautauqua earned over thirty dollars for a playground during the last two or three days of Chautauqua; by selling ice cream, candy and lemonade. These boys and girls are real earnest in raising more money for their playground and in order to do this subscription blanks have been printed. The boys are to canvass the town and seek assistance from citizens wishing to contribute to this worthy object, and boast a progressive measure for the betterment of our future citizens in the making. Eugene N. Swett and Glenn McIntire have been chosen sponsors for Norway.

Professor and Mrs. Leonard D. White announced the birth of a daughter, Marjorie Robinson White, July 11th. Mrs. White is the daughter of Willis L. Holten, who formerly lived on Oak Hill, Otisfield.

THE
U. S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

PEOPLE used to be secretly envious of the young fellow who came tearing up the street and stopped his car with a jerk.

Now they are inclined to criticize such abuse of tires. A mark of the growing consciousness about tires—their service, their work, their value.

This same respect for a good tire is the reason why the four-square tire dealer has passed up odds and ends, "job lots," "seconds," "cut prices"—and come out squarely with the standard quality service of U. S. Tires.

He is getting a bigger, and also better, tire business than he ever had before.

He is dealing now with his own kind of people. The substantial citizen. The man who knows that you can't get something for nothing. The steady customer—not the bargain hunter.

To the man who has not yet learned the standard tire service he is entitled to we say—

Go to the dealer in U. S. Tires and make him show you.

The U. S. Tire you buy is a tire built for current demands. No overproduction. No piling up of stock. No loss of mileage by hanging around on the dealer's racks.

Every way you look at it, a par quality tire at a net price.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Norway residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Norway man's statement.

George F. McAllister, ret. farmer, 1 Brown St., says: "I was in awful bad shape with my kidneys some years ago. I couldn't lay in bed with any comfort owing to the steady pain across my back. I was hoeing at the time and I can tell you I was handicapped not being able to get about to do my work. My kidneys did not act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. I picked up a paper and the Doan's Kidney Pills testimony given led me to go to Noyes' Drug Store and get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. After using them I was all right, and went back to work feeling as well as ever. I am only too pleased to tell of the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them always."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McAllister had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Lure of BIRTH STONES

JULY

It was believed that in the birthstones of July burned an inextinguishable flame. Noah, 'tis said, had with him on the Ark a ruby that shined a soft and glowing light all through the flood. This gem is treasured in India, the land of jewel splendor, where it is called the rajah of precious stones, and there it is considered that the good effects are most surely secured, if the ruby set in a bracelet, ring or brooch is worn on the left side.

South Paris (Continued from page 1)

Passes Her Eighty-first Birthday
Mrs. Arvilla Wise recently passed her 84th birthday. She is one of the smart women of the village, being in perfect health, her hearing and eyesight good. She has been a resident of South Paris for 44 years.

Mrs. Wise is the daughter of Captain Henry C. Rolfe who was a descendant of the Indian princess, Pocahontas, only three or four generations back. He was born August 11, 1799. He was a great prohibitionist and Mrs. Wise recalls an incident which occurred on the second day of June, 1855. It was when Maine liquor law was first enforced in the city of Portland. She, with her father, Henry Rolfe, took a trip to Portland, August 1, 1855, when she was 13 years of age, on the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, which afterwards became the Grand Trunk. They called on General Neal Dow at his office in Portland and he told them about the riot which occurred in Portland on June 2, when the sheriff seized some liquor that had been hidden by a man and in the riot the man who owned the liquor was shot. Gen. Dow showed them where the bullet went through the door, close by the door handle, into the building where the owner of the liquor was killed.

Mrs. Wise's mother was Dorcas Wheeler, daughter of Abel Wheeler of Rumford who came there from New Hampshire. Mr. Wheeler, Mrs. Wise's grandfather, was the first educator in the town of Rumford. He taught 50 schools in Rumford and other places, teaching until he was over 70 years of age. He was a great mathematician. He was also a surveyor and did much of the surveying in laying out Acrostook county.

Mrs. Wise's two grandfathers felled the first trees in Rumford. Mrs. Wise was born at Rumford Falls July 9, 1840. She attended the town schools and also Oxford Normal Institute at South Paris. After finishing her education, she taught nine terms of school in Dixfield and Mexico.

When she was 22 years of age, she married Frederick F. Farnum of Rumford. Mr. Farnum died within a year after his marriage and four years later she married George Wise of Canton. Mr. and Mrs. Wise lived at Rumford Center 10 years where they owned a home. Then they sold their house there and moved to South Paris. They had one son, Dwight M. Wise, who now lives at Rockland, Mass., and is the owner of a clothing and furnishing store. Mr. Wise died eight years ago last May. Mrs. Wise owns a home on Gothic street. She has been an active member of the Methodist Church in Rumford, having united with the Methodist Church in Rumford when a young woman and being transferred to the Methodist Church in South Paris. She is a regular attendant at the services.

For the next two weeks the mid-week service will be devoted to a study of "Personal Evangelism."

The Church bids welcome to all those having no church affiliation, and any whose home church may be closed for the vacation.

A new Church Manual has been issued, which contains the new constitution and articles of faith adopted this year, also a complete and up-to-date membership roll. The contract for a cement bridge over Tappan brook on Main street, has been let to the James Kerr Construction Co. Work will start at once and done in two parts so the highway will be closed no longer than absolutely necessary.

Louis J. Brooks of the Pure Food Store has purchased the store building now occupied by B. Jackson, through the Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency. Many alterations, both inside and out, will be made to the newly purchased building before it will be occupied as a grocery store.

William W. Gallagher and Wilfred G. Conary were at Waterville, Wednesday and Thursday, as delegates to the American Legion Convention.

George Tripp, who keeps Main street clean, has had several narrow escapes from being run down by careless motorists.

A car speeding up Cottage street, late Thursday afternoon, knocked the broom from his hands, and missed him by a few inches. No stop was made for apologies. George lodges a kick on the street cleaner and some rights on the highway and should be protected.

"Johnny" White, the Twin Towns first baseman lately released, made good on the N. D. Dodge team of Newburyport, playing against the Salems, Saturday. The contest went twelve innings and he scored the winning run for Newburyport. Result was 3 to 2.

The Newburyport News commenting on the game says this about his playing: "White played a sensational game at first. He received throws in all positions; besides catching a foul fly after a long run. After getting two hits earlier in the game, he got up in the twelfth and hit out a double. He later scored the winning run."

Managers of the Twin Towns and Oxford teams have arranged a series of five games to be played during August, and the first week in September. It is understood Oxford will have three, and the fair grounds two games. This series will create general interest over a wide territory as both teams are known to be hard fighters until the last batter is retired.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Briggs and daughter Marjorie of Berlin, N. H., and Mrs. Briggs' cousin, Miss Whitney from Massachusetts were in town a short time Saturday afternoon calling on friends.

Arthur W. Lewis is recovering from an operation performed at the Central Maine General Hospital, where a bunch was removed from a joint near the large toe. He will remain at the hospital two or three weeks. Philip F. Stone is substitute mail carrier on the city delivery during his absence.

The Oxford Electric Co. office is being transferred to temporary quarters in the car barn, and more commodious rooms will be provided soon in a new building near the present location. A large room has been finished in the brick building where electric cars were bricked up excepting a space for a large plate glass window and an entrance to the new headquarters. The old office building is to be removed, and a better structure erected a little below that location.

When the new building was bricked up, the new part will contain up to date office equipment, and the former barn utilized for the supply department and storage.

Roy H. Eastman and Percy Y. Fogg have bought the furniture business including the paint stock of the late H. L. Home of Cottage street. They assume both bills payable and receivable and go on with the business.

Frank L. Mark of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Game Warden Charles P. Gray of Fryeburg were in town the first of the week. Probably on official business, the nature of which was not explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark will be spending the week-end at their home in Fryeburg and will return to New York the last of this week.

Box 55, the new fire alarm box, has been installed at the junction of Beal, Solon and Paris streets.

Clarence V. Stevens, manager of the Geo. W. Bent Co., manufacturers of iron beds, springs and mattresses at Lewiston is spending a short vacation in town. He is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Elden Stevens, Brown street.

Albion L. Buck is having a two weeks' vacation from his work at the Brown, Buck & Co. store. Part of the time he and Co. Mrs. Buck will spend with his mother, Mrs. Jennie E. Buck at North Norway and the remainder at Poplar Tavern, in Newry.

The concert by the Norway-Paris band in Witherell Park Monday evening was enjoyed by a large patronage. Many were from adjoining towns and all spaces by the roadside were packed solid with automobiles.
